Personal Income Tax Filing Extension Ends October 15

The Office of the Comptroller reminds Marylanders of the filing deadline and free taxpayer assistance

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (October 13, 2026) — The Office of the Comptroller is reminding Marylanders who received an extension to file their 2025 personal income tax returns that they must file their returns by midnight on Thursday, October 15, 2026.

Taxpayers can use Maryland Tax Connect, the Comptroller's free online portal, to file their Maryland personal income tax returns, make payments, check their refund status, and view account information. Information about registering and using the portal is available at MarylandComptroller.gov/IndividualTaxHub.html.

Taxpayers can also speak with an agent at 1-800-MDTAXES.

More information on filing tax returns or answers to other questions can be found at MarylandComptroller.gov.
